KILBEGGAN DISTILLERY

Kilbeggan is the world's oldest operating distillery and is situated in the heart of Ireland in the small town of Kilbeggan in Co. Westmeath. This location was chosen for good reason, with the three natural ingredients needed to distill superior quality whiskey close by. Located on the Brosna River gives it access to pure water, along with locally grown grains and a ready supply of turf, for malting, from nearby bogs.

The distillery and its whiskey have survived and thrived for more than 250 years, proof that the Spirit of Ireland is alive and well.
